SENSATIONAL
STRIKE REPORTED FROM MASONIC

FIVE FEET OF ORE OPENED UP THAT YIELDS ASSAYS OF HIGH VALUE.

S. L. Perini, who is operating a lease and bond on the Sierra claim at Masonic has made a strike which promises to bring that camp again into the limelight. He sank a vertical shaft 50 feet and at a depth of about 20 feet struck a vein five feet wide that assayed from $26 to $800 a ton.

At 50 feet he cut through another vein, 15 inches in thickness, on which he drifted 40 feet, the ore averaging $76 in gold. From that point he ran a crosscut and 15 feet in struck a vein three feet thick that assayed $43.

The surface shows six more veins east of the present workings, all of good milling ore. He has lots of good ore on the dump and several tons of high grade ore ready for shipment as soon as road conditions permit of its being moved.

The ore shows a great deal of free gold and there is every evidence that the property will be an income producer. Mr. Perini is a practical miner, a hard worker and deserves every bit of good fortune which can come his way. He knows the way to prove a prospect is by development and he has been busy for several months proving up the property.—Chronicle-Union.

Tiring of the discipline at the Stewart Institute and longing for a view of the world, John Charles and John Brown, two students, escaped yesterday from the Indian school, near Carson City.

Superintendent Asbury wired a description of the runaways to Chief Hillhouse and shortly after their arrival the boys were placed under arrest by Officer Devincenzi.

They were confined in the city jail over night and in the morning they were given into the charge of Indian Officer E. W. Bailey, who took them back to the institution.—Reno Gazette.

Old Comstock Pioneer Is Found Dead on Cabin Floor

Constable McCourt and Thomas Lamerton made a gruesome find last night, when they visited the home of H. B. Smith at the corner of Carson and D streets, Mr. Smith being dead on the floor, and all indications pointed to the fact that he had passed away at least ten days ago. Mr. Lamerton is the first one who began to suspect that anything was wrong, as he had frequently seen Mr. Smith about the town, and at his home, and the absence of the deceased began to be conspicuous.

Mr. Lamerton finally notified the constable and last night they started out to look him up. At the home of Mr. Smith the doors were locked but they gained an entrance, and came at once upon the dead body of Mr. Smith, lying on the floor. All the circumstances point to the fact that Mr. Smith had climbed out of bed, and fell dead while walking across the floor. Death must have been instantaneous, as the body lay in the same position as it fell, face downward. There was no sign of a struggle or anything to indicate that death resulted from other than natural causes. The house was well cared for and neatly kept. Mr. Smith was a long time and respected citizen of the Comstock, and for years had been employed as an engineer at the various mines. His most recent employment was watchman at the Ophir works. He leaves a number of relatives residing in Yerington.

Death was undoubtedly due to natural causes, as he had been suffering for a long time from kidney and heart trouble. Dr. Toogood, after an examination gave it as his opinion that Mr. Smith had been dead about ten days. A search of the premises revealed $55 in cash and $200 in checks besides a couple of life insurance policies. The body of Mr. Smith will be shipped to Yerington this morning. He also leaves a brother, Charles Smith, residing at Skowhegan, Maine.—Virginia Chronicle.

SOME LAWS THAT ARE FOUND IN THE NEW STATE CODE

The editor of the Carson Appeal has been digging into the new code and has unearthed some good laws now on the statute books. It is found that the sale of tobacco to minors is stringent. It is unlawful to sell to any minor any tobacco of any description or cigarette papers or cigarettes without a written order to be kept on file by the party selling same. The merchant violating this provision shall be fined and imprisoned in the county jail and his license forfeited. The justice finding such a merchant guilty shall tax the merchant $50, which shall go to the informant.

It is unlawful to employ a minor as a bartender and is punishable by fine and imprisonment.

Another new law which will not bother the average citizen in the regulating of the sale of horse meat as a substitute for beef. If the price of beef keeps crawling up the scale, this law will have a kink taken in it. It is unlawful to sell horse meat without so posting the fact and telling the customer and such a merchant is subject to prosecution under a misdemeanor charge.

It is unlawful to sell adulterated or doctored milk. As it is also unlawful to sell impure water, the two should go together. The milk dealer can sell skimmed milk if he so advertises the fact.

The good old game of chicken fighting is under the ban. No fight between animals or cocks is allowable and is punishable as a misdemeanor.

Banco steering is a state prison offense and a lot of games come under this head, including fraudulent cards, dice or land sales.

CHASED ATHLETE, THINKING IT WAS PRISONER WANTED

An amusing feature of the chase of Ramsey, the prisoner who escaped and was captured in Virginia City is told by the Virginia Chronicle. In the afternoon, residents of the Divide reported to the police that a man supposed to be Ramsey had been seen going over the hill near the Combination shaft, and a posse was at once organized, armed with shotguns and other weapons. The pursuit became warm and when the men came upon their quarry, it proved to be a local athlete out doing a little cross-country running in the way of training.

PROHIBITION FOR BASEBALL PLAYERS

President Murphy of the Chicago National League club, says recent telegraphic advices, following up the suggestion of Barney Dreyfuss, of the Pittsburgh National League team, that a prohibition clause be put in ball players' contracts, said that he would like to see the big league players prevented from engaging in the saloon business. He said that he proposes introducing a rule at the next National league meeting which will prohibit ball players from purchasing or holding interests in buffets or establishments of a like nature.
